

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

It is my privilege to express my deep sense of gratitude to my guide Dr.Amiya Sarma, Assistant Professor of Department of Economics, Gauhati University for his valuable guidance and constructive suggestion throughout my research work. Reaching the completion stage of the research work would have been extremely difficult without her inspiration and guidance.

I am also thankful to Dr.Madhurjya Prasad Bezbaruah, Head of the Department of Economics, Gauhati University, for encouraging all the research scholars to carry our respective research works. I am also thankful towards all other faculty member of department for their valuable suggestions and comments.

Through this column I also express my sincere thanks to the library and library staff of Gauhati University for their appreciable co-operation.

I am extremely grateful toward the respondents across the two blocks of Dhemaji District who gave their valuable time during the interviews and sharing their information, without which the task only seemed half finished. I cannot forget the support of Mr. Bastav Jyoti Saikia, Mr. Dilip Saikia, Mr. Ranjit Sharma, Mr. David Dihingia, and Mr. Madhujya Gogoi who, wasting their own valuable time, guided me during my field survey.

I also acknowledge my gratitude towards my senior and my friends. I cannot forget the support of Ms. Manisha Devi and Ms. Sampriiti Das. Many informal discussions with them helped me a lot during this endeavour.

Last but not the least I am grateful to my Maa and my brother for their constant love, blessings, support and inspiration.
